Re: Introduction and Statement of Interest Regarding Cardroom Ownership

Dear Commissioners:

I am writing to introduce myself to the Commission and to provide background regarding my interest in, and application relating to, ownership of the Cardhouse poker facility in Port St. Lucie, Florida.

By way of background, my career began commanding troops during multiple combat tours. I transitioned into IT consulting work and am currently a cyber-security executive with Amazon supervising IT engineering teams. In addition, I have over a decade of experience investing in a variety of business and real estate opportunities. My interest in the poker industry developed as I observed the growth of that industry in Texas. As I looked more closely at the industry, I became particularly interested in Florida's poker industry given the state's business-friendly regulatory environment and its established framework for licensing and oversight.

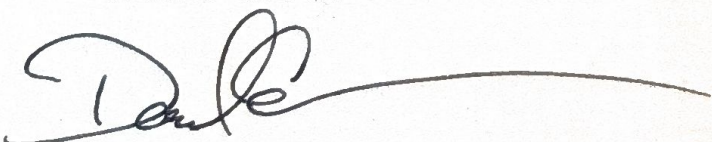

My goal is to expand the current business operation, due to the area's population growth, like how other Florida cardrooms have increased their revenues in recent years. I believe that Cardhouse presents a unique opportunity for future growth and I am excited about investing in a Florida-based business.

I have no criminal background history and have successfully completed the Commission's background screening process. I currently hold a cardroom occupational license, and I take my obligations under Florida's gaming laws and the Commission's rules seriously.

I appreciate the Commission's time and consideration. Please do not hesitate to contact me directly with any questions.

Sincerely,

David Crews
